$6,000,000 LIQUOR FLOTILLA TRIES TO ENTER NEW YORK

New York, N. Y., July 6.—An international rum-smuggling fleet, several hundred men and fifteen or more ships, which was repulsed recently in a speedy engagement with the Federal "Dry" Navy and driven fifteen miles to sea, returned today and is planning another dash to the New York-New Jersey coast, according to information received by Ralph Day, Prohibition Director. The fleet carries a cargo of booze estimated to be worth nearly six million dollars at bootlegger prices, according to dry agents. In the belief that most of the ships in the fleet now riding at anchor a few miles off New York harbor are sailing under the British flag, when displaying a flag at all, Day declared he intended to make representations to the British Government regarding the fleet.

Apportion Funds For Public School Help From State

The apportionment of the $30,000,000 appropriated by the last legislature for the support of Public Schools has been completed by the Department of Public Instruction. According to the provisions of the Edmunds Act the amounts become payable February 1, and August 1, 1922, and February 1, 1923. Of the amounts due February 1, 1,800 districts have, up to this time, been paid.

The apportionment shows two very remarkable features—first, that every district in the State receives a substantial advance over previous years; and second, that the distribution for the first time in the history of the State, is on a basis intended to promote equality of educational opportunity.

It also shows the interesting fact that $16,000,000—more than half the $30,000,000—goes to Fourth Class—rural—districts.

Clearfield county received $122,612 in 1918-19; $135,356 in 1920-21 and in 1922-23 will receive under this act $219,921.

"As far as we are concerned, the strike is not important. We are able to operate without any trouble and are filling up the places made vacant by the strikers" without any difficulty. We took on forty five men yesterday who will be kept in the payroll permanently if they desire to stay," he said.

Events of the past few days have convinced him that he must now exert the utmost pressure upon the operators and miners to bring about peace. With the operator-miner coal conference adjourned pending his return to Washington President Harding has given considerable attention to the Government's next move in the coal situation. It is understood that he has discussed the matter with Attorney General Daugherty who returned here today from Washington Court House, where his mother has been seriously ill. Curwensville Boy Shoots Older Lad With 'Unloaded Gun'

Tragedy Occurred Early Yesterday Morning at Bloomington.—At Home of Victim.

IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

Steve Lash, aged 18, who resides with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lash on a farm near Bloomington was brought to the Clearfield hospital yesterday by Dr. E. S. Erhard of Curwensville in a very critical condition suffering from a gun shot wound received at the hands of George Kula, a 14 year old Curwensville boy who alleges the shooting to have been accidentally done.

The Lash and Kula families are friends of long standing and George Kula went to the Lash farm to spend the Fourth of July. He remained at the Lash farm over Tuesday night and when Steve Lash was a little slow about getting up Wednesday morning the Kula boy was sent up to his bedroom by Mrs. Lash to wake him. Shortly after Kula went upstairs a shot was heard and Kula came running down stairs shouting "I shot Steve."

When members of the family rushed to the bedroom they found Steve lying on the bed with a bullet hole through his head, very seriously injured. In explanation of the happening

the Kula boy said he attempted to wake Steve and when he failed sleep and refused to get up, in an effort to scare him he placed the muzzle of a .32 calibre revolver against the sleeping Steve's head and pulled the trigger. He "didn't know it was loaded," as usual, but it was. The bullet entered Steve's head at the temple and took a diagonal course downward coming out on the cheek alongside the mouth.

Young Kula was then sent to the nearest telephone some distance away and after giving the alarm, becoming frightened at what he had done, made his way to his home at Curwensville.

Dr. Erhard went at once to the Lash home and ministered to the seriously injured man and later had him removed to the hospital where he is lying in a critical condition with but little hope for his recovery. He rallied during the night and was conscious this morning. An operation will likely be performed on his head today in an effort to save his life.

The Kula boy is being held pending the result of Lash's injury.

Cambria County Has Big Deposits Of Coal to Tap

Harrisburg, Pa., July 6.—Enough mineable coal remains in Cambria County to duplicate for 21 years the entire production of soft coal in Pennsylvania last year. Since the Revolutionary War Pennsylvania has mined 3,900,000,000 tons of soft coal. Cambria County produced 467,000,000 of this output, and still has 3,533,000,000 or almost as much as the State has produced in nearly 50 years.

The lower Kittanning bed is the largest reserve and contains 1,348,000,000 tons. The Lower Freeport, Upper Freeport and Upper Kittanning rank second, third and fourth in reserves. Six beds in Cambria County are believed to have originally contained more than 5 billion tons of coal.

A report showing the coal reserves in each bed, in each township in Cambria County has just been completed by John F. Reese and issued as Bulletin 44 by the Bureau of Topographic and Geological Survey, Department of Internal Affairs.

Fire In New York Subway Imperils Children's Lives

New York, N. Y., July 6.—Little children were trampled, men and women fought desperately in the darkness and more than one hundred persons were overcome in a panic thirty five feet below the surface when a short circuit in the Lexington Avenue subway filled the subway with smoke and fire today. Fire broke out in a Jerome Avenue express train which left Grand Central Station shortly before noon today. Short circuiting of wires caused a burst of flame as the train thundered past the 69th Street station. A panic ensued in the burning car. The train crew checked the flames with extinguishers. Thick black smoke filled the train and immediately afterward all the lights went out and the train stopped running. Passengers tried to escape but the doors being jammed had to smash the windows. Terrified men and women climbed thru the broken windows some injuring themselves seriously.

The Special-Six chassis frame is 7" deep. It tapers from a width of 29" in the front to 41" in the rear, so that the sides of the body fit perfectly without overhang. Five crossmembers prevent the distortion that eventually causes bodies to squeak.

Studebaker Bodies Don't Rattle or Squeak

Studebaker bodies rest squarely on the chassis frame—not on the body sills. The body and the frame form a rigid unit that successfully resists the rack of the road.

Studebaker bodies are built in Studebaker shops by men, many of whom have been building vehicle bodies for Studebaker for upwards of 30 years—and their fathers before them. Studebaker has been building fine bodies for seventy years.

Studebaker Special-Six bodies, because of their quality and soundness, weigh more than those of other cars around the Special-Six price. You cannot skimp in material and build a body that will not rattle.

Freedom from rattle or squeak is just another of the fine-car refinements that emphasize the extra value of the Studebaker Special-Six.

Surprised to Find Her-self Feeling So Well

Taunton, Mass. — "I used to have pain in my back and legs so badly, with other troubles that women sometimes have, that my doctor ordered me to stay in bed: week in every month. It didn't do me much good, so one day after talking with a friend who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for about the same trouble I had, I thought I would try it also. I find that I can work in the laundry all through the time and do my housework too. Last month I was so surprised at myself to be up and around and feeling so good while before I used to feel completely lifeless. I have told some of the girls who work with me and have such troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I tell them how it has helped me. You can use my testimonial for the good of others." — Mrs. BLANCHÉ SILVER, 66 Grant St., Taunton, Mass.

It's the same story—once friend telling another of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Few Conquerors Died in Peace.

It is remarkable how few of the discoverers and conquerors of the New World died in peace. Columbus died of a broken heart; Balboa was disgracefully beheaded; Cortes was beheaded; Sir Walter Raleigh was beheaded; Pizarro was murdered; Queda died in poverty; Henry Hudson was left to the mercy of the Indians along the bay which he discovered.

Earth's Movement Fixed.

The lengths of the days and night appear not to have varied appreciably since the earth took the present shape. A very slight change of rotation would produce grinding and fracturing in the rocks, and geologists find no trace of such action.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

"Eagle-Eye" McFarland who visited Clearfield over the Fourth reports a lot of information gained concerning the operations of local bootleggers and before returning to Punxsutawney headquarters announced that there would be something doing hereabouts on his return which will be in a few days.

There are a whole lot of people, even among the church members, who like to see a good "hoss race". That was again demonstrated at the Driving Park yesterday.

There was not a single kick in yesterday's ball game between Phillipsburg and Clearfield. Something remarkable. Then, too, the players on both sides were all local talent, another thing remarkable.

Talk about repopulating our Pennsylvania Mountains with the denizens that flourished here years ago. There are now 11 beaver colonies in Pennsylvania in as many different counties and all are flourishing it is reported.

A White Haven, Pa., man recently painted his house and says that the color of the paint was such an attraction for the reptiles of the community that a large copperhead, two black snakes and seven rattlers have been killed near the house since the paint was put on. Some of the neighbors think it might be "moonshine" that is developing the reptiles in that particular locality.

All true friends of Ireland and the Irish and lovers of liberty who would see all nations free, will rejoice from the news from the little green isle that Collins, Griffith and their Free State forces are rapidly chasing DeValera to where St. Patrick is said to have driven the snakes—out of Ireland. In this connection and to justify this feeling it is only necessary to add that those familiar with the terms granted Ireland by the English Government claim that no state in the union has today, the freedom and individual independence which Ireland's valiant sons have finally wrested from England. For the Irish leaders not to accept the beneficial fruits of that victory, but to insist upon substituting therefore the horrors of practical civil war, would be madness.

KEEP COMPOST HEAP MOIST
Arrange Pile So That Rain Will Keep Material Wet and Prevent Loss of Fertility.

"It is of the utmost importance," says the Flower Grower, that the top of the pile be kept hollow at least 18 inches so that rain will keep the material wet and prevent burning, and loss of fertility. Don't let the pile get rounded on top under any circumstances, as it should absorb the rainfall and not shed it and therefore, the nearer level it is kept the better job of composting will result.

DETERMINING SEX OF DUCKS

Hen Always Quacks in Coarse Voice, While Drake Will Emit Silbiant Sound.

Not every one knows how to tell the sex of ducks but it is easy. The hen duck always quacks in a coarse voice, the drake never quacks but emits a silbiant sound, described by one woman as being "like an old man with bronchitis." It has a "quack" sound, but is high pitched and not so loud as the raucous quacking of the hen ducks.

Hunting Ducks on the Amazon.
The alligators which live in the Amazon river are especially fond of "patos." A duck hunter is therefore compelled to take an extra man along, to rescue the freshly shot birds before an alligator has a chance to swallow them.

BIG SAVING MADE BY CULLING OUT SCRUBS

Nonproducing Fowls Eliminated From Many Flocks.

Extension Agents Explain Method of Weeding Out So Thoroughly That Poultry Raisers Soon Become Efficient.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Approximately $40,000 was saved to poultry men in Texas last year through the work of extension workers employed co-operatively by the United States Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural college. In 14 counties of Maine the saving was about $1,304.40. These sums represent the money value of culling, estimated on the feed cost of one cent a day a hen.

In Maine 15,004 hens were examined in culling demonstrations and 4,049 culled removed. In Texas about 15,000 hens were culled. That this culling was successful is shown by the following figures: 19 birds were culled from a flock of 54, and in the next seven days the culled laid only 20 eggs, 200 birds were culled from flocks totaling 846 and in the next seven days laid 26 eggs. Of the entire number of hens culled in Maine, the percentage of egg production for the entire flock was 32 1/2, for the hens left after culling 40 1/2 per cent, and for the culled 15 per cent.

Extension Agent Explaining Method of Culling.

The number of poultry owners in situated in Maine was 3,043 and in Texas 8,000, many of whom afterward culled their own flocks. The estimated savings represent only a part of the total value of this work. As a result of the demonstrations in one section in Maine 79 persons eliminated 1,420 birds as culled while in Texas the culling that resulted from all demonstrations was valued at $125,000.

The extension agents not only demonstrated that the non-producing hen could be eliminated but explained the method of culling so thoroughly that those present could go home and put it into practice nearly as effectively as the demonstrators themselves.

RIGHT CULTURE OF CABBAGE

Rich Soil Encourages Fast Growth, Large and Solid Heads—Chinese Variety Differs.

The history of the development of the cabbage gives the key to its culture. The richer the soil and the faster it is kept growing, the larger and solid the heads. It must be grown fast to head fast. If through lack of fertility or drought its growth is checked, there is either no real head or a loose, very inferior one, the whole strength of the plant going to develop such leaves as it had produced before the check. The Chinese cabbage is an entirely different species from the common cabbage and its brothers.

Kill Too Many Swordfish.
The swordfish is good food for man, and man hunts this fish with a harpoon. Fishermen hunt him even though he is a strong and dangerous fighter. The slaughter of so many swordfish is disturbing the balance of nature, so it is said, and allowing the sharks to multiply without those restrictions which swordfish impose.

HARDING RESPONSIBLE SAYS CARAWAY

IT WAS BELL INSTEAD OF DALTON

Billy Bell, the little Altoona scrapper who put up such a game battle in Tuesday evening's preliminary, despite the fact that he was up against a bigger man and a dirty fighter, asks The Progress to make a correction of the name given him in yesterday's report of the battle. His name was given as Dalton by Promoter Kelley of McKeesport, when it should have been Bell. He is a good game kid.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Beck of New York City and Mrs. Robert J. Tuller of Lansdowne, Pa. motored to Clearfield today and are the guest of Hon. and Mrs. F. G. Harris at their home on W. Fourth Street.

Favorite Stones of the Past.
Rings of the Middle Ages had turquoise and emeralds as favorite stones and in that age of chivalry it was but natural that the coat of arms on the shield should become the fashion. In the Renaissance diamonds were used for the first time. The cuttings were very rough, the tools of jewellers being crude, and for softer stones, more easily cut or carved. Then appeared the emerald ornamentation and some of the rings of those days contained miniature perfume boxes.

Electrical Hair Cutting
There is in use in France an electric substitute for the barber's scissors. It consists of a comb carrying along one side of its row of teeth a platinum wire through which flows an electric current. As the comb passes through the locks to be shorn the heated wire instantaneously severs the hairs, leaving them of even length and sealing the cut ends as in the ordinary process of singeing with a taper.

Fish Weatherwise.
It is said that most fish, but trout in particular, know what the weather is going to be for about 24 hours in advance.

A WORTHY PATRIOTIC ACTION

We unintentionally omitted reference to an action worthy of commendation in yesterday's report of the Fourth of July celebration. That was mention of the Italian Band for its especially appropriate and patriotic action in getting out before the "sunrise gun" in the morning. Prof. Anselmo had his band in spick and span new uniforms at the Court House Square at 6 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth and as the "town clock" started striking the hour the band opened with the first strain of the "Star Spangled Banner."

At the conclusion of the National anthem the band marched up and down Second and Market streets discoursing patriotic music.

It was very thoughtful on the part of Prof. Anselmo and his band and they were the recipients of much praise for their patriotic action.

The accident which happened to Mrs. Frank Jones of Punxsutawney Tuesday last and which resulted in that aged lady breaking her right arm at the wrist when she fell on a defective sidewalk on Turnpike avenue, should serve as a warning to all Clearfield property owners. The property owner is liable for the care and keeping of the sidewalk in front of his premises and in case of injury resulting to a pedestrian by reason of any defect in such walks must pay all damages accruing therefrom.

The Borough Council is making an effort to have all defective sidewalks repaired on rebuilt and have notified many property owners throughout the town of the condition of their walks, and propose building same in every case where notices are ignored.

The fact of an accident occurring after notices to the property owner of the necessity for a satisfactory walk establishes liability for damages beyond all question.

The American Plan as Established and Enforced in San Francisco

By H. B. ALLEN, Industrial Ass'n of San Francisco.

The American plan as established and enforced in San Francisco by the industrial association is distinct from the old-time, so-called open shop. Whereas the open shop, wherever enforced, has meant the entire absence of all restriction or restraint upon employers with respect to wages paid, hours of work and other conditions of employment—thereby giving opportunity for unscrupulous employers to deal unfairly, the American plan in San Francisco has set up machinery for reasonable control of these matters in the interest of the public.

In other words, it really has been a plan, definitely conceived and definitely carried out, in the interest not of any special group or faction but in the interest of the three parties to industrial relations: the public labor and the employers.

The American plan is predicated upon the proposition that the public interest is paramount to that of any other community element, and that neither labor nor capital, nor any other faction or class, should be allowed to take action that will jeopardize that interest. And, as the public interest actually would be jeopardized as much by unfairness of any kind visited by the employers upon labor or consumers, as by autocratic labor union control of industry, the American plan prevents either of these things taking place.

For the First Time in America's History We Have a Military Policy

By GEN. H. J. REILLY, Editor Army and Navy Journal.

For the first time in the history of the United States we have a military policy. By that I mean we have a definite plan, passed by congress, part of the law of the land. That plan or policy is the amended national defense act of 1921. This act provides that in time of war the army of the United States will be one army.

The three components, the regular army, the National Guard and the reserve forces, will be amalgamated. That army will be primarily composed of what we choose to call citizen soldiers, in other words, men who are ordinarily civilians but who have had a certain amount of training in peace time and therefore are fit to go on a battlefield and can be put on a battlefield without being slaughtered indiscriminately and uselessly the way we have always done in the past.

Now one of the provisions of that act has to do with the citizens' military training camps, in which citizens receive a certain amount of military training. If the young men who want to go to these camps are going to them, the civilians of every community have got to encourage them in every possible way.

A Versatile Fruit.

In Foreword we read of a New York sportsman who was spending his annual vacation in the Moosehead country and who had engaged the services of an old French Canadian as his guide. The sportsman liked to see the old man questions about the different objects that attracted his attention. Happening to notice a clump of cranberry vines on the shore of the lake, he asked the old man what they were and whether they were good to eat. "Good to eat? Well, I should say so. You take that little cranberry and stew him, she makes just as good apple sauce as prunes."

Woodland A. C. added two more games to their list of steady wins for this season by defeating Hawk Run in both the morning and the afternoon tilts on July 4th. The Hawk Run team, even by the addition of new players could not stop Woodland's streak of victories. This team still having to taste defeat for the season of 1922. In the morning game Hawk Run profited by the wildness of Aughinbaugh in the gaining of runs. The fielding and hitting of Kepp was the most spectacular seen here this season. In the afternoon game "Dod" Weiser pitched "big league ball" and was never in danger. Large crowds witnessed both tilts. The summary:

The Gearhart Yarn Buster Baseball Team appears to be getting into its stride in the Community Service League and placed another notch in their gun stock by taking the Reedsville Indians into camp in a twilight game by a 4 to 2 score.

There was a large crowd present and the tears of many fair rooters of Reedsville washed gulleys in the Kalsonine as they trickled down over alabaster cheeks as the last Reedsviller "bit the dust."

The game was featured by J. Dale's homer and Eckley's slam for three bases.

Japanese "Courtship."
In some parts of Japan, as soon as a young man has set eyes upon his ideal, he opens proceedings by fastening a branch of a certain shrub against the door of her parents' house. Should the young woman not wish to encourage his advances the branch is allowed to wither; but if she decides to accept him as her future husband she buckens her teeth as a sign that he may begin negotiations with her father.

Light and Dark of Moon.

The dark of the moon is that part of the lunar month when the moon is not visible. It may be considered as covering a period of approximately four days, two days before and two days after the time of the new moon. The rest of the lunar month may be called the light of the moon. These are popular expressions and are not susceptible of precise definition.

Actually "Sight Unseen."

In Morocco youths and maidens fondly indeed, for they are not even allowed to see each other before the wedding. Now and again a virtuous youth will hide himself in the town when the young woman is coming to say the customary state call upon his mother, but even this needs to be done with a considerable amount of caution.

Youthful Lover Too Sordid.

He was ten, I was eight. He invited me to a carnival one night, and of course I accepted. He treated me to rides, bought me candy, and I had the time of my life. But my love for him faded when, the next day, he came and showed my mother a list that he had kept of all the things he had treated me to, and asked her to pay him back.—Chicago Journal.

MAHAFFEY WRESTLER GETTING CHESTY

Ralph Mott, the Mahaffey wrestler, who recently tossed Leon Test of Curwensville says some people in the latter town appear to be of the opinion that Test was not beaten fairly. Mott says: he was and he can do it again in Test's own home town or any other town with a disinterested referee.

Mott also says he can throw or will at least try to do so, any 130 wrestler in Western Pennsylvania and is just ready to get at any fellow that weight who thinks he can wrestle.

He says a letter addressed to Ralph Mott, Mahaffey, Pa., will reach him and start something.

Heavy Loss Caused by Fungi.

The annual loss caused by forest fires is enormous, but it is no greater than that attributable to fungi, which rot pine timbers, bridge timbers, telegraph poles and other structures of wood, necessitating their replacement. The "life" of the average railway tie is seven and a half years; if fungi would let it alone it would last twice that long.

Swordfish of Mackerel Family.

The swordfish is allied by family to the mackerel. It attains a length of from 12 to 15 feet and sometimes specimens 20 feet long have been caught. It has a much elongated upper jaw, which is the "sword," and this is commonly three tenths of the length of the fish. The body is covered with minute scales, its color is bluish-black above and silvery-white below, and the central fins are lacking. Neapolitan and Sicilian fishermen make great commerce of this fish and its flesh is held to be very palatable.

STOMACH SO BAD COULDN'T SLEEP

Was All Run Down—Terribly Nervous—Is Well Now

Here is the story of a man who was always very much prejudiced against medicine, but finally after he had suffered from stomach and bowel trouble for so long a time that he could neither eat nor sleep in comfort a friend induced him to try Nerv-Worth and the first bottle gave him such wonderful relief that he was anxious to tell others about. Today he is well and hearty as ever and sleeps like a top. His name is C. W. Witmer and he holds the position of Public Service Director in the city of Xenia, O. for four terms. The word of such a man should carry great weight.

It is silly for anyone to suffer from stomach or bowel troubles, nervousness and sleeplessness and general run down condition when they can go to the nearest drug store and buy a bottle of Nerv-Worth for a dollar and get their money right back if they are not satisfied with the results they obtain from the first bottle. It aids digestion, prevents sour stomach, gas, flat, belching and other stomach troubles. It regulates the bowels in an easy and natural manner. It is mild yet always effective, even in chronic cases of constipation. It is so pleasant to take that children like it and take it without trouble. It is always on sale in this city at Stewart's drug store.

$6,000,000 LIQUOR FLOTILLA TRIES TO ENTER NEW YORK

New York, N. Y., July 6.—An international rum-smuggling fleet, several hundred men and fifteen or more ships, which was repulsed recently in a speedy engagement with the Federal "Dry" Navy and driven fifteen miles to sea, returned today and is planning another dash to the New York-New Jersey coast, according to information received by Ralph Day, Prohibition Director. The fleet carries a cargo of booze estimated to be worth nearly six million dollars at bootlegger prices, according to dry agents. In the belief that most of the ships in the fleet now riding at anchor a few miles off New York harbor are sailing under the British flag, when displaying a flag at all, Day declared he intended to make representations to the British Government regarding the fleet.

Apportion Funds For Public School Help From State

The apportionment of the $30,000,000 appropriated by the last legislature for the support of Public Schools has been completed by the Department of Public Instruction. According to the provisions of the Edmonds Act the amounts become payable February 1, and August 1, 1922, and February 1, 1923. Of the amounts due February 1, 1,800 districts have, up to this time, been paid.

The apportionment shows two very remarkable features—first, that every district in the State receives a substantial advance over previous years; and second, that the distribution for the first time in the history of the State, is on a basis intended to promote equality of educational opportunity.

It also shows the interesting fact that $16,000,000—more than half the $30,000,000—goes to Fourth Class—rural—districts.

Clearfield county received $122,612 in 1918-19; $135,356 in 1920-21 and in 1922-23 will receive under this act $219,921.

Curwensville Boy Shoots Older Lad With 'Unloaded Gun'

Tragedy Occurred Early Yesterday Morning at Bloomington.—At Home of Victim.

IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

Steve Lash, aged 18, who resides with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lash on a farm near Bloomington was brought to the Clearfield hospital yesterday by Dr. E. S. Erhard of Curwensville in a very critical condition suffering from a gun shot wound received at the hands of George Kula, a 14 year old Curwensville boy who alleges the shooting to have been accidentally done.

The Lash and Kula families are friends of long standing and George Kula went to the Lash farm to spend the Fourth of July. He remained at the Lash farm over Tuesday night and when Steve Lash was a little slow about getting up Wednesday morning the Kula boy was sent up to his bedroom by Mrs. Lash to wake him. Shortly after Kula went upstairs a shot was heard and Kula came running down stairs shouting "I shot Steve."

When members of the family rushed to the bedroom they found Steve lying on the bed with a bullet hole through his head, very seriously injured. In explanation of the happening

the Kula boy said he attempted to waken Steve and when he failed sleep and refused to get up, in an effort to scare him he placed the muzzle of a .32 calibre revolver against the sleeping Steve's head and pulled the trigger. He "didn't know it was loaded," as usual, but it was. The bullet entered Steve's head at the temple and took a diagonal course downward coming out on the cheek alongside the mouth.

Young Kula was then sent to the nearest telephone some distance away and after giving the alarm, becoming frightened at what he had done, made his way to his home at Curwensville.

Dr. Erhard went at once to the Lash home and ministered to the seriously injured man and later had him removed to the hospital where he is lying in a critical condition with but little hope for his recovery. He rallied during the night and was conscious this morning. An operation will likely be performed on his head today in an effort to save his life.

The Kula boy is being held pending the result of Lash's injury.

Cambria County Has Big Deposits Of Coal to Tap

Harrisburg, Pa., July 6.—Enough mineable coal remains in Cambria County to duplicate for 21 years the entire production of soft coal in Pennsylvania last year. Since the Revolutionary War Pennsylvania has mined 3,900,000,000 tons of soft coal. Cambria County produced 467,000,000 of this output, and still has 3,538,000,000 or almost as much as the State has produced in nearly 50 years.

The lower Kittanning bed is the largest reserve and contains 1,348,000,000 tons. The Lower Freeport, Upper Freeport and Upper Kittanning rank second, third and fourth in reserves. Six beds in Cambria County are believed to have originally contained more than 5 billion tons of coal.

A report showing the coal reserves in each bed, in each township in Cambria County has just been completed by John F. Reese and issued as Bulletin 44 by the Bureau of Topographic and Geological Survey, Department of Internal Affairs.

Paul Ruch, who has been the local representative of the United States Rubber Co., has been transferred to the Pittsburgh territory. Mr. and Mrs. Ruch leave here today for their new home.

Fire In New York Subway Imperils Children's Lives

New York, N. Y., July 6.—Little children were trampled, men and women fought desperately in the darkness and more than one hundred persons were overcome in a panic thirty five feet below the surface when a short circuit in the Lexington Avenue subway filled the subway with smoke and fire today. Fire broke out in a Jerome Avenue express train which left Grand Central Station shortly before noon today. Short circuiting of wires caused a burst of flame as the train thundered past the 69th Street station. A panic ensued in the burning car. The train crew checked the flames with extinguishers. Thick black smoke filled the train and immediately afterward all the lights went out and the train stopped running. Passengers tried to escape but the doors being jammed had to smash the windows. Terrified men and women climbed thru the broken windows some injuring themselves seriously.

Studebaker Bodies
Don't Rattle or Squeak

Studebaker bodies rest squarely on the chassis frame—not on the body sills. The body and the frame form a rigid unit that successfully resists the rack of the road.

Studebaker bodies are built in Studebaker shops by men, many of whom have been building vehicle bodies for Studebaker for upwards of 30 years—and their fathers before them. Studebaker has been building fine bodies for seventy years.

Studebaker Special-Six bodies, because of their quality and soundness, weigh more than those of other cars around the Special-Six price. You cannot skimp in material and build a body that will not rattle.

Freedom from rattle or squeak is just another of the fine-car refinements that emphasize the extra value of the Studebaker Special-Six.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

"Eagle-Eye" McFarland who visited Clearfield over the Fourth reports a lot of information gained concerning the operations of local bootleggers and before returning to Punxsutawney headquarters announced that there would be something doing hereabouts on his return which will be in a few days.

There are a whole lot of people, even among the church members, who like to see a good "hoss race". That was again demonstrated at the Driving Park yesterday.

There was not a single kick in yesterday's ball game between Phillipsburg and Clearfield. Something remarkable. Then, too, the players on both sides were all local talent, another thing remarkable.

Talk about repopulating our Pennsylvania Mountains with the denizens that flourished here years ago. There are now 11 beaver colonies in Pennsylvania in as many different counties and all are flourishing it is reported.

A White Haven, Pa., man recently painted his house and says that the color of the paint was such an attraction for the reptiles of the community that a large copperhead, two black-snakes and seven rattlers have been killed near the house since the paint was put on. Some of the neighbors think it might be "moonshine" that is developing the reptiles in that particular locality.

All true friends of Ireland and the Irish and lovers of liberty who would see all nations free, will rejoice from the news from the little green isle that Collins, Griffith and their Free State forces are rapidly chasing DeValera to where St. Patrick is said to have driven the snakes—out of Ireland. In this connection and to justify this feeling it is only necessary to add that those familiar with the terms granted Ireland by the English Government claim that no state in the union has today, the freedom and individual independence which Ireland's valiant sons have finally wrested from England. For the Irish leaders not to accept the beneficial fruits of that victory, but to insist upon substituting therefore the horrors of practical civil war, would be madness.

KEEP COMPOST HEAP MOIST
Arrange Pile So That Rain Will Keep Material Wet and Prevent Loss of Fertility.

"It is of the utmost importance," says the Flower Grower, that the top of the pile be kept hollow at least 18 inches. This will keep the material wet and prevent burning, and loss of fertility. Don't let the pile get rounded on top under any circumstances, as it should absorb the rainfall and not shed it and therefore, the nearer level it is kept the better job of composting will result.

DETERMINING SEX OF DUCKS
Hen Always Quacks in Coarse Voice, While Drake Will Emit Silbiant Sound.

Not every one knows how to tell the sex of ducks but it is easy. The hen duck always quacks in a coarse voice, the drake never quacks but emits a silbiant sound, described by one woman as being "like an old man with bronchitis." It has a "quack" sound, but is high pitched and not so loud as the raucous quacking of the hen ducks.

Hunting Ducks on the Amazon.
The alligators which live in the Amazon river are especially fond of "patos." A duck hunter is therefore compelled to take an extra man along, to rescue the freshly shot birds before an alligator has a chance to swallow them.

BIG SAVING MADE BY CULLING OUT SCRUBS

Nonproducing Fowls Eliminated From Many Flocks.

Extension Agents Explain Method of Weeding Out So Thoroughly That Poultry Raisers Soon Become Efficient.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Approximately $40,000 was saved to poultry men in Texas last year through the work of extension workers employed co-operatively by the United States Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural college. In 14 counties of Maine the saving was about $1,304.40. These sums represent the money value of culling, estimated on the feed cost of one cent a day a hen.

In Maine 15,004 hens were examined in culling demonstrations and 4,049 culled removed. In Texas about 15,000 hens were culled.

Extension Agent Explaining Method of Culling.

000 hens were culled. That this culling was successful is shown by the following figures: 19 birds were culled from a flock of 54, and in the next seven days the culled laid only 20 eggs, 200 birds were culled from flocks totaling 846 and in the next seven days laid 26 eggs. Of the entire number of hens culled in Maine, the percentage of egg production for the entire flock was 32 1/2, for the hens left after culling 40 1/2 per cent, and for the culled 15 per cent.

The number of poultry owners in situated in Maine was 3043 and in Texas 8,000, many of whom afterward culled their own flocks. The estimated savings represent only a part of the total value of this work. As a result of the demonstrations in one section in Maine 79 persons eliminated 1,420 birds as culled while in Texas the culling that resulted from all demonstrations was valued at $125,000.

The extension agents not only demonstrated that the non-producing hen could be eliminated but explained the method of culling so thoroughly that those present could go home and put it into practice nearly as effectively as the demonstrators themselves.

RIGHT CULTURE OF CABBAGE

Rich Soil Encourages Fast Growth, Large and Solid Heads—Chinese Variety Differs.

The history of the development of the cabbage gives the key to its culture. The richer the soil and the faster it is kept growing, the larger and solid the heads. It must be grown fast to head fast. If through lack of fertility or drought its growth is checked, there is either no real head or a loose, very inferior one, the whole strength of the plant going to develop such leaves as it had produced before the check. The Chinese cabbage is an entirely different species from the common cabbage and its brothers.

Kill Too Many Swordfish.

The swordfish is good food for man, and man hunts this fish with a harpoon. Fishermen hunt him even though he is a strong and dangerous fighter. The slaughter of so many swordfish is disturbing the balance of nature, so it is said, and allowing the sharks to multiply without those restrictions which swordfish impose.

Favorite Stones of the Past.

Rings of the Middle Ages had turquoise and emeralds as favorite stones and in that age of chivalry it was but natural that the coat of arms on the shield should become the fashion. In the Renaissance diamonds were used for the first time. The cuttings were very rough, the tools of jewellers being crude, and for softer stones, more easily cut or carved. Then appeared the emerald ornamentation and some of the rings of those days contained miniature perfume boxes.

Electrical Hair Cutting

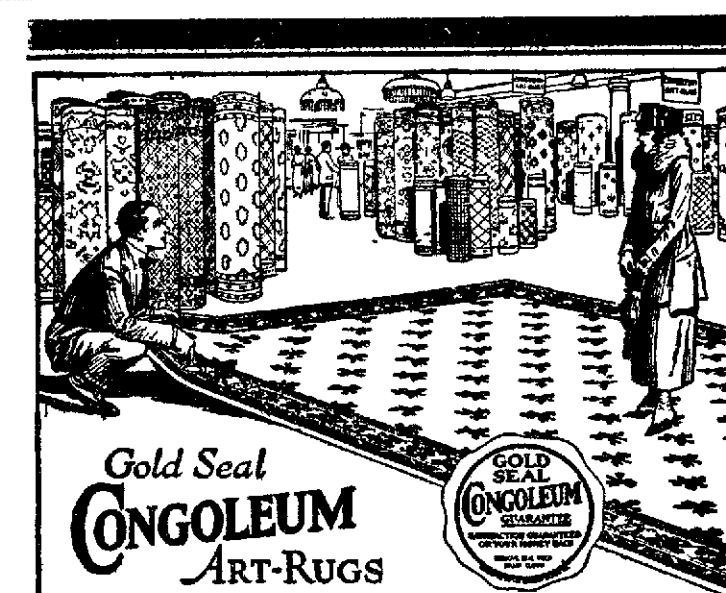

There is in use in France an electric substitute for the barber's scissors. It consists of a comb carrying along one side of its row of teeth a platinum wire through which flows an electric current. As the comb passes through the locks to be shorn the heated wire instantaneously severs the hairs, leaving them of even length and sealing the cut ends as in the ordinary process of singeing with a taper.

Fish Weatherwise.

It is said that most fish, but trout in particular, know what the weather is going to be for about 24 hours in advance.

A WORTHY PATRIOTIC ACTION

We unintentionally omitted reference to an action worthy of commendation in yesterday's report of the Fourth of July celebration. That was mention of the Italian Band for its especially appropriate and patriotic action in getting out before the "sunrise gun" in the morning. Prof. Anselmo had his band in spick and span new uniforms at the Court House Square at 6 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth and as the "town clock" started striking the hour the band opened with the first strain of the "Star Spangled Banner."

At the conclusion of the National anthem the band marched up and down Second and Market streets discoursing patriotic music.

It was very thoughtful on the part of Prof. Anselmo and his band and they were the recipients of much praise for their patriotic action.

The accident which happened to Mrs. Frank Jones of Punxsutawney Tuesday last and which resulted in that aged lady breaking her right arm at the wrist when she fell on a defective sidewalk on Turnpike avenue, should serve as a warning to all Clearfield property owners. The property owner is liable for the care and keeping of the sidewalk in front of his premises and in case of injury resulting to a pedestrian by reason of any defect in such walks must pay all damages accruing therefrom.

The Borough Council is making an effort to have all defective sidewalks repaired on rebuilt and have notified many property owners throughout the town of the condition of their walks, and propose building same in every case where notices are ignored.

The fact of an accident occurring after notices to the property owner of the necessity for a satisfactory walk establishes liability for damages beyond all question.

The American Plan as Established and Enforced in San Francisco

By H. B. ALLEN, Industrial Ass'n of San Francisco.

The American plan as established and enforced in San Francisco by the industrial association is distinct from the old-time, so-called open shop. Whereas the open shop, wherever enforced, has meant the entire absence of all restriction or restraint upon employers with respect to wages paid, hours of work and other conditions of employment—thereby giving opportunity for unscrupulous employers to deal unfairly, the American plan in San Francisco has set up machinery for reasonable control of these matters in the interest of the public.

In other words, it really has been a plan, definitely conceived and definitely carried out, in the interest not of any special group or faction but in the interest of the three parties to industrial relations: the public labor and the employers.

The American plan is predicated upon the proposition that the public interest is paramount to that of any other community element, and that neither labor nor capital, nor any other faction or class, should be allowed to take action that will jeopardize that interest. And, as the public interest actually would be jeopardized as much by unfairness of any kind visited by the employers upon labor or consumers, as by autocratic labor union control of industry, the American plan prevents either of these things taking place.

For the First Time in America's History We Have a Military Policy

By GEN. H. J. REILLY, Editor Army and Navy Journal.

For the first time in the history of the United States we have a military policy. By that I mean we have a definite plan, passed by congress, part of the law of the land. That plan or policy is the amended national defense act of 1921. This act provides that in time of war the army of the United States will be one army.

The three components, the regular army, the National Guard and the reserve forces, will be amalgamated. That army will be primarily composed of what we choose to call citizen soldiers, in other words, men who are ordinarily civilians but who have had a certain amount of training in peace time and therefore are fit to go on a battlefield and can be put on a battlefield without being slaughtered indiscriminately and uselessly the way we have always done in the past.

Now one of the provisions of that act has to do with the citizens' military training camps, in which citizens receive a certain amount of military training. If the young men who want to go to these camps are going to them, the civilians of every community have got to encourage them in every possible way.

A Versatile Fruit.

In Foreword we read of a New York sportsman who was spending his annual vacation in the Moosehead country and who had engaged the services of an old French Canadian as his guide. The sportsman liked to see the old man questions about the different objects that attracted his attention. Happening to notice a clump of cranberry vines on the shore of the lake, he asked the old man what they were and whether they were good to eat. "Good to eat? Well, I should say so. You take that little cranberry and stew him, she makes just as good apple sauce as prunes."

KEYSTONE ICE CREAM

Made a hit on the Fourth with every lover of good Ice Cream—

It's goodness was the reason.

Woodland A. C. added two more games to their list of steady wins for this season by defeating Hawk Run in both the morning and the afternoon tilts on July 4th. The Hawk Run team, even by the addition of new players could not stop Woodland's streak of victories. This team still having to taste defeat for the season of 1922. In the morning game Hawk Run profited by the wildness of Aughinbaugh in the gaining of runs. The fielding and hitting of Kepp was the most spectacular seen here this season. In the afternoon game "Dod" Weiser pitched "big league ball" and was never in danger. Large crowds witnessed both tilts. The summary:

The Gearhart Yarn Buster Baseball Team appears to be getting into its stride in the Community Service League and placed another notch in their gun stock by taking the Reedsville Indians into camp in a twilight game by a 4 to 2 score.

There was a large crowd present and the tears of many fair rooters of Reedsville washed gulleys in the Kasoline as they trickled down over alabaster cheeks as the last Reedsviller "bit the dust."

The game was featured by J. Dale's homer and Eckley's slam for three bases.

of C. team broke into the Community Service League last evening when they met the sturdy Hillsdale "Deacuts" in a game at the Driving Park. The K. of C. boys showed lack of practice and teamwork but promise to round into form with a little more practice. The score was Hillsdale 15, "Casey's" 0.

Japanese "Courtship."

In some parts of Japan, as soon as a young man has set eyes upon his ideal, he opens proceedings by fastening a branch of a certain shrub against the door of her parents' house. Should the young woman not wish to encourage his advances the branch is allowed to wither; but if she decides to accept him as her future husband she buckens her teeth as a sign that he may begin negotiations with her father.

All on the Same Principle.
Every form of lamp for use in mines is based on the design of Sir Humphry Davy, whose principle was that flames will not pass wire gauze.

BARNYARD CHATTER!

All horseshoe twirlers will meet at the machine shops courts to contest the championship of the West Siders tomorrow night at 6:30.

There will also be a conference to devise means and ways to get in communication relative to the proposed game between the self claimed gold bricks from Boardman and the Community Service champs. We wonder if they are as good as they tout themselves to be. However, we're from Missouri.

Barnyard Gelfers.

Light and Dark of Moon.

The dark of the moon is that part of the lunar month when the moon is not visible. It may be considered as covering a period of approximately four days, two days before and two days after the time of the new moon. The rest of the lunar month may be called the light of the moon. These are popular expressions and are not susceptible of precise definition.

Actually "Sight Unseen."

In Morocco youths and maidens fondly indeed, for they are not even allowed to see each other before the wedding. Now and again a virtuous youth will hide himself in the town when the young woman is coming to say the customary state call upon his mother, but even this needs to be done with a considerable amount of caution.

Youthful Lover Too Sordid.

He was ten, I was eight. He invited me to a carnival one night, and of course I accepted. He treated me to rides, bought me candy, and I had the time of my life. But my love for him faded when, the next day, he came and showed my mother a list that he had kept of all the things he had treated me to, and asked her to pay him back.—Chicago Journal.

MAHAFFEY WRESTLER GETTING CHESTY

Ralph Mott, the Mahaffey wrestler, who recently tossed Leon Test of Curwensville says some people in the latter town appear to be of the opinion that Test was not beaten fairly. Mott says: he was and he can do it again in Test's own home town or any other town with a disinterested referee. Mott also says he can throw or will at least try to do so, any 130 wrestler in Western Pennsylvania and is just ready to get at any fellow that weight who thinks he can wrestle.

He says a letter addressed to Ralph Mott, Mahaffey, Pa., will reach him and start something.

Heavy Loss Caused by Fungi.

The annual loss caused by forest fires is enormous, but it is no greater than that attributable to fungi, which rot pine timbers, bridge timbers, telegraph poles and other structures of wood, necessitating their replacement. The "life" of the average railway tie is seven and a half years; if fungi would let it alone it would last twice that long.

Overpoite Orientals. When we come to truly grooving politeness there are the orientals. So anybody is the native of Japan to call his friend or acquaintance that he sets him on a pedestal so to speak, and lowers himself to the very dust. He will not admit that anything he himself owns is even tolerable, no matter how valuable it may be, and to speak with the slightest degree of tolerance of anything he owns is, in his opinion, to arrive at the very zenith of impoliteness.

The Thousand Islands. The beauties of the St. Lawrence river were first seen by a white man when Jacques Cartier, on a voyage of exploration, happened on the stream in 1535. It was not until 1615, however, that this region of Alexandria bay was discovered. In that year Champlain traveled up this part of the river. About 1750 the French began to realize its wonders and christened it Les Mille Isles.

Pleated Frocks Popular

Narrow pleatings are used to excellent effect on many summer frocks. Sometimes they take the form of long panels from the shoulder to below the hem line and are shown both in front and back.

Swordfish of Mackerel Family.

The swordfish is allied by family to the mackerel. It attains a length of from 12 to 15 feet and sometimes specimens 20 feet long have been caught. It has a much elongated upper jaw, which is the "sword," and this is commonly three tenths of the length of the fish. The body is covered with minute scales, its color is bluish-black above and silvery-white below, and the central fins are lacking. Neapolitan and Sicilian fishermen make great commerce of this fish and its flesh is held to be very palatable.

Her Vision.

A wealthy woman of fifty was told that her husband was in love with his stenographer. "You can see it yourself," they told her. She replied: "No, I cannot see it. A young woman or a blind woman might see it; but I am fifty and I am not blind. I know what not to see."—Charleston News and Courier.

STOMACH SO BAD COULDN'T SLEEP

Was All Run Down—Terribly Nervous—Is Well Now

Here is the story of a man who was always very much prejudiced against medicine, but finally after he had suffered from stomach and bowel trouble for so long a time that he could neither eat nor sleep in comfort a friend induced him to try Nerv-Worth and the first bottle gave him such wonderful relief that he was anxious to tell others about. Today he is well and hearty as ever and sleeps like a top. His name is C. W. Witmer and he holds the position of Public Service Director in the city of Xenia, O. for four terms. The word of such a man should carry great weight.

It is silly for anyone to suffer from stomach or bowel troubles, nervousness and sleeplessness and general run down condition when they can go to the nearest drug store and buy a bottle of Nerv-Worth for a dollar and get their money right back if they are not satisfied with the results they obtain from the first bottle. It aids digestion, prevents sour stomach, gas, flat, belching and other stomach troubles; it regulates the bowels in an easy and natural manner. It is mild yet always effective, even in chronic cases of constipation. It is so pleasant to take that children like it and take it without trouble. It is always on sale in this city at Stewart's drug store.
